What to Expect

EPS EXPO is the only educational and networking forum developed exclusively for the EPS industry. It's where all facets of the EPS industry hear experts present what's new and cutting edge in EPS shape and block molding while meeting and networking with fellow associates from around the world. EPS EXPO 2010 will feature quality presentations and information on key market applications, business dynamics and regulatory developments. Recommended attire is business casual. Weather conditions will be 60- 70°F.

About AFPR & EPSMA

The Alliance of Foam Packaging Recyclers was founded in 1991 to address EPS transport packaging issues ranging from recycling to technical applications. AFPR provides a platform for the exchange of information about packaging, testing, performance, legislation and international issues.

The EPS Molders Association is a leading force in the EPS building and construction industry. Serving as an information clearinghouse, EPSMA works to increase industry credibility and market development for EPS insulation through technical substantiation and outreach to architects and building professionals.
